

COVID-19 and Federal Relief Programs for Business

The federal government has launched a number of short-term relief programs to support Canadian business impacted by COVID-19. However, knowing which programs you are eligible for and how to apply can be complex.

MNP, in partnership with Barrick Gold Corporation, is offering complimentary remote consultations to businesses within the Marathon, Manitouwadge, and White River communities on eligibility and benefits of various federal programs, including:

- Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy
- Temporary Wage Subsidy for Employers
- Canada Emergency Business Account
- Large Employer Emergency Financing Facility
- Business Credit Availability Program, and
- Canada Emergency Commercial Rent Assistance Program

The complimentary one-hour consultations will offer business owners without access to professional advisors the opportunity to discuss the various programs and their benefits.

The consultation is intended to cover general information and will not constitute professional advice. Should you wish to receive specific help applying for or reviewing your business' eligibility for any of these programs in detail, an engagement letter will formally be issued to initiate an ongoing professional relationship.

Service provider, national accounting firm MNP LLP has matched a $10,000 contribution from Barrick Gold Corporation to fund the project.

To arrange for a remote consultation, contact Emily Mantle, CPA, CA, Senior Manager, MNP, at 705.523.0272 or emily.mantle@mnp.ca
